bizSAFE Partner Award – Cushman & Wakefield facilities & Engineering Pte Ltd

Cushman & Wakefield places emphasis on providing the safest, most efficient and cost effective work environment for their employee. One of the company's workplace safety and health (WSH) initiatives is to deploy innovative technology to minimise WSH risks. An example is the incorporation of drone technology to conduct roof gutter inspections, which reduces their employees' exposure to work at height risks.

Cushman & Wakefield also recognises the importance of its employees' health and well-being at work, as poor health can contribute to accidents. To promote good workplace health among their employees, Cushman & Wakefield has collaborated with a pathological lab service company to provide free basic health screening for all its employees at various work sites.

As a bizSAFE Partner, Cushman & Wakefield aims to set high standards in WSH by requiring all their business partners to be at least bizSAFE level 3 certified. It also actively engages its business partners to build up its WSH capabilities through routine site surveillance measures and implementing a safety and health inspection programme for them.

bizSAFE Partner Award – Lendlease Singapore Pte Ltd

Lendlease is a firm believer of WSH and adopts a robust risk management approach aimed at preventing the introduction and release of harm to their workers. The Global Minimum Requirements (GMRs) an Environment, Health & Safety (EH&S) framework, seeks to establish WSH standards beyond Singapore's statutory requirements. The GRMs are focused on preventive measures to avoid incidents, and allow for the effective management of critical risks events.

In addition to a robust WSH framework, Lendlease also believes that its workers' level of competency is critical for working safely. The Lendlease Academy was created to provide in-house training on core EH&S courses and high risk modules, to ensure that its workers, contractors and subcontractors have the right competencies to complete their task safely.

As bizSAFE Partners, Lendlease's malls have similar pre-qualification criteria and assist contractors which are interested in progressing to the next level of bizSAFE certification by offering guidance on relevant accredited training courses and organising talks and classes to develop their competencies.

bizSAFE Enterprise Exemplary and bizSAFE Champion Award – Mr Thet Naing Oo, Wee Chwee Huat Scaffolding & Construction Pte Ltd

“I am encouraged and motivated to learn more about workplace safety and health (WSH) so that my workers and colleagues can go back home safely after each working day. I am excited to explore new ways and ideas on how to improve WSH at my workplace.”

Thet Naing Oo believes that everyone has an important part to play in achieving good WSH results. Embracing a common WSH culture in the company is important as it builds trust between management and workers by embracing a set of common beliefs.

Thet Naing Oo also strongly feels that incorporating new innovations into current work process can not only help to increase productivity but also minimise WSH risks. For example, to mitigate the risk of workers falling and tripping when climbing up and down lorries without proper access, the company invented the Portable Walk Up Stair Trolley with railing for loading and unloading operations.

Receiving the bizSAFE Champion Award is important as it is a recognition of the company's support to achieve high WSH standards. The implementation of bizSAFE has helped to inculcate in every member of the organisation a safety mindset and emphasises the importance of incorporating safety into their work culture.

bizSAFE Enterprise Exemplary and bizSAFE Champion Award – Mr Damien Tan Kian Boon, Lih Ming Construction Pte Ltd

“It gives me a great sense of satisfaction when I share my Workplace Safety and Health (WSH) knowledge and experiences with my fellow workers. It is important that everyone know how to work safe and healthily so that they may all go back to their families safe and sound.”

As a civil engineering and pipe laying company, workers at Lih Ming Construction have to manually handle polyethylene pipes of various sizes daily. One of the risks identified with this activity was pinch points hazards. To mitigate the risk, industrial trolleys were replaced with professionally engineered trolleys, which allowed workers to secure the pipes firmly with straps to prevent toppling. The professionally engineered trolleys also allowed workers to lock the caster wheels to prevent the trolley from rolling off.

In addition to workplace safety, workplace health is equally important to the company. When work activities are being carried out on open roads without shelter, the work teams are provided with beach umbrellas, bottles of drinking water, first aid kit and fire extinguishers to set up shelter areas. This will ensure that its workers are adequately sheltered from the heat and have access to drinking water for adequate hydration.

Receiving the bizSAFE Champion Award is testament to the company's commitment to the programme. Being part of the bizSAFE programme have provided the company with a better understanding on managing WSH.
