SODIUM CYCLAMATE NOT ALLOWED IN FOOD IN SINGAPORE

MEWR News Release: 053/2001

Date Published: 19 Apr 2001

Sodium cyclamate, an artificial sweetening agent, is not allowed in food in Singapore. Codex Alimentarius, the world body on food standards has not recommended it for use in foods as yet, as there are still food safety considerations. The Coca Cola Light produced locally does not use sodium cyclamate. Singapore does not import Coca Cola Light.
