It gives me great pleasure to meet you this evening and to welcome you to this meeting. As you know the day for the holding of the X'mas Fun Fair is fast approaching. We are here this evening to take stock of what we have done so far and of what we still have to accomplish before the 4th of December arrives.

I am pleased with all that you have done and I take this opportunity to express to you my deep appreciation of the hard work that you have undertaken and of your willingness and co-operation to ensure that the Fair which we have planned months ahead will be a great success. I must also add a special word of thanks to Mrs. Tan Ley Chee for her able Chairmanship of the Sub-Committee and for the sacrifice of her valuable time and leisure devoted to this worthy cause and to her hard-working Committee for their capable handling of their task.

In view of the work that still remains to be done, may I urge on you to continue to give your valuable support to bring to completion the various projects we have planned. I can assure you that your hard work will not be in vain. The various societies for whom we are planning the Fair will be more than grateful for your efforts to collect funds for their benefit.

Finally, thank you, ladies and gentlemen, for coming here today. I will now leave it to the Chairman to tell you in greater details how the plans for the Fair are progressing.
